What about Covid

Health and Safety is our primary concern and we will follow the health advice. An MWU Covid Committee has been put into place to manage the protocols and compliance to the health advice

Leaving Australia

- If you're a fully vaccinated Australian citizen or permanent resident, you'll be able to travel overseas without an exemption. You'll need to provide evidence of your vaccination status when you check-in at the airport.
- Your international certificate features a secure QR code. It includes all the information you need to prove to airlines and authorities that you've had your COVID-19 vaccinations.
- To get a certificate, you'll need to have your valid Australian passport with you. Your COVID-19 vaccinations will need to be registered on the Australian Immunisation Register before you can apply.

Returning to Australia

- You must show evidence of a negative COVID-19 PCR or RT-PCR test when checking in for your flight to Australia (exemptions apply). Rapid antigen tests won't be accepted.

The test must be at an accredited testing facility. A self-administered COVID-19 test taken at home without supervision is not acceptable. If you or a primary close contact of your travelling group tests positive, you won't be allowed to travel to Australia.

- You must get tested 72 hours or less prior to the scheduled departure of your first international flight.
- You don't need to be re-tested at transit points unless your airline or transit point requires it.

Entry to Israel

COVID-19: Israel To Allow Vaccinated Tourists Starting Next Month; Read Details

As of November 1, 2021, individual tourists will be allowed to enter Israel under the following conditions:

- Fully vaccinated (within 6 months of the second shot or after a 3rd shot) with Pfizer vaccine (latest vaccine should be given at least 7 days before arrival and within 180 days of leaving Israel)
- Fully vaccinated (two shots) of the Moderna, Astra Zeneca, Sinovak and Sinopharm vaccine (latest vaccine should be given at least 14 days before arrival and within 180 days of leaving Israel).
- PCR tests are required for all travellers to Israel:
 - 72 hours before departure to Israel. Required to board the flight along with the entry declaration which must be filled in within 24 hours of flight.
 - At the airport, upon arrival in Israel. This is required to leave the airport. After leaving the airport, you must go to your hotel or place of accommodation and remain in isolation until the results are received. This can take up to 24 hours but usually takes 5-6 hours.
 - 72 hours before departure from Israel as well as completing an exit declaration up to 24 hours before flight.
